Meet Guy Fox!

Guy Fox History Project

Guy Fox is the mascot for Guy Fox History Project, an innovative educational charity in London, England. We deliver projects in which primary school children learn about a topic and then create an educational resource that teaches other children about it. Participants learn about the world around them, develop lifelong learning skills, and gain loads of self-confidence. Our work is a lot of fun with a serious purpose: It empowers children to understand the world and to become better citizens.
